

GREENE'S PATENT
A SET OF WATER COLORES.
READ ADVERTISEMENT.

VOL. XV. NO. 37.

FOREIGN NEWS

Bloodshed at a "Proclaimed" Meeting in Ireland.

English, Irish and Scotch Members of Parliament Witness the Affair.

News from Henry M. Stanley's Expedition—Notes.

The operation of the crimes act has resulted in bloodshed. The government having seen fit to interfere at a meeting, the Irish, Scotch, and English members of parliament, Messrs. Brunner, Ellis and Dillon, Davitt and O'Brien, immediately set about holding the meeting in spite of the order to disperse. As a result there was a collision between the police and the meeting, the result that the constabulary fired, killing three and wounding a large number. So far this tells the whole story. The readers of the home rule movement claim that the result that the constabulary fired, killing three and wounding a large number. So far this tells the whole story. The readers of the home rule movement claim that the result that the constabulary fired, killing three and wounding a large number. So far this tells the whole story.

T. P. O'Connor writes in his usual inflammatory style on the subject, and the readers claim that they tried to stop the meeting. That's why, from their point of view, the people came together at a forbidden meeting in order to keep the law by breaking it.

A peaceful meeting of citizens had assembled in the street listening to Mr. Brunner, an American liberal member, the victor in the recent struggle at Norwich, when a strong body of police, without the slightest attempt to prevent a more peaceful meeting, opened fire.

Almost immediately they called out, and a man was killed and a woman wounded. The police then fired, and a man was killed and a woman wounded. The police then fired, and a man was killed and a woman wounded. The police then fired, and a man was killed and a woman wounded.

Mr. Labouchere went over to attend O'Brien's trial, and the English members of parliament, Messrs. Brunner, Ellis and Dillon, Davitt and O'Brien, immediately set about holding the meeting in spite of the order to disperse.

MR. BALFOUR'S VERSION.

It Empirically Contradicts the Story as Reported to the Papers.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—In the House of Commons today Mr. Sexton, in his appeal to the government to give such justification as they could for the shooting at Mitchellstown yesterday, said it was beyond doubt that the bloodshed had resulted from the wanton attack of an armed force upon a body of citizens engaged in the exercise of their constitutional rights.

On every previous occasion application had been made to the government to give such justification as they could for the shooting at Mitchellstown yesterday, said it was beyond doubt that the bloodshed had resulted from the wanton attack of an armed force upon a body of citizens engaged in the exercise of their constitutional rights.

Mr. Balfour replied that Mr. Sexton had given an account of the affair more than a week ago, and that the government had given such justification as they could for the shooting at Mitchellstown yesterday, said it was beyond doubt that the bloodshed had resulted from the wanton attack of an armed force upon a body of citizens engaged in the exercise of their constitutional rights.

Mr. Sexton asked, "Do you deny that the government had given such justification as they could for the shooting at Mitchellstown yesterday, said it was beyond doubt that the bloodshed had resulted from the wanton attack of an armed force upon a body of citizens engaged in the exercise of their constitutional rights."

Mr. Balfour, in reply, said he had given such justification as they could for the shooting at Mitchellstown yesterday, said it was beyond doubt that the bloodshed had resulted from the wanton attack of an armed force upon a body of citizens engaged in the exercise of their constitutional rights.

Mr. Sexton asked, "Do you deny that the government had given such justification as they could for the shooting at Mitchellstown yesterday, said it was beyond doubt that the bloodshed had resulted from the wanton attack of an armed force upon a body of citizens engaged in the exercise of their constitutional rights?"

Mr. Balfour, in reply, said he had given such justification as they could for the shooting at Mitchellstown yesterday, said it was beyond doubt that the bloodshed had resulted from the wanton attack of an armed force upon a body of citizens engaged in the exercise of their constitutional rights.

Mr. Sexton asked, "Do you deny that the government had given such justification as they could for the shooting at Mitchellstown yesterday, said it was beyond doubt that the bloodshed had resulted from the wanton attack of an armed force upon a body of citizens engaged in the exercise of their constitutional rights?"

Mr. Balfour, in reply, said he had given such justification as they could for the shooting at Mitchellstown yesterday, said it was beyond doubt that the bloodshed had resulted from the wanton attack of an armed force upon a body of citizens engaged in the exercise of their constitutional rights.

Mr. Sexton asked, "Do you deny that the government had given such justification as they could for the shooting at Mitchellstown yesterday, said it was beyond doubt that the bloodshed had resulted from the wanton attack of an armed force upon a body of citizens engaged in the exercise of their constitutional rights?"

can sleep under their own roofs, and that they are safe from the clutches of the crowbar brigade.

I will not trust myself to speak of what took place at Mitchellstown on Friday as a peaceful meeting, and I shall be proud to suffer for such men as for such a cause.

Tonight when I went down to Kingston to see our English friends, I was told that the police were at fault, as was to be expected, and are making the utmost capital out of the affair.

The operation of the crimes act has resulted in bloodshed. The government having seen fit to interfere at a meeting, the Irish, Scotch, and English members of parliament, Messrs. Brunner, Ellis and Dillon, Davitt and O'Brien, immediately set about holding the meeting in spite of the order to disperse.

T. P. O'Connor writes in his usual inflammatory style on the subject, and the readers claim that they tried to stop the meeting. That's why, from their point of view, the people came together at a forbidden meeting in order to keep the law by breaking it.

A peaceful meeting of citizens had assembled in the street listening to Mr. Brunner, an American liberal member, the victor in the recent struggle at Norwich, when a strong body of police, without the slightest attempt to prevent a more peaceful meeting, opened fire.

Almost immediately they called out, and a man was killed and a woman wounded. The police then fired, and a man was killed and a woman wounded. The police then fired, and a man was killed and a woman wounded. The police then fired, and a man was killed and a woman wounded.

Mr. Labouchere went over to attend O'Brien's trial, and the English members of parliament, Messrs. Brunner, Ellis and Dillon, Davitt and O'Brien, immediately set about holding the meeting in spite of the order to disperse.

On every previous occasion application had been made to the government to give such justification as they could for the shooting at Mitchellstown yesterday, said it was beyond doubt that the bloodshed had resulted from the wanton attack of an armed force upon a body of citizens engaged in the exercise of their constitutional rights.

Mr. Balfour replied that Mr. Sexton had given an account of the affair more than a week ago, and that the government had given such justification as they could for the shooting at Mitchellstown yesterday, said it was beyond doubt that the bloodshed had resulted from the wanton attack of an armed force upon a body of citizens engaged in the exercise of their constitutional rights.

On every previous occasion application had been made to the government to give such justification as they could for the shooting at Mitchellstown yesterday, said it was beyond doubt that the bloodshed had resulted from the wanton attack of an armed force upon a body of citizens engaged in the exercise of their constitutional rights.

Mr. Balfour replied that Mr. Sexton had given an account of the affair more than a week ago, and that the government had given such justification as they could for the shooting at Mitchellstown yesterday, said it was beyond doubt that the bloodshed had resulted from the wanton attack of an armed force upon a body of citizens engaged in the exercise of their constitutional rights.

Mr. Sexton asked, "Do you deny that the government had given such justification as they could for the shooting at Mitchellstown yesterday, said it was beyond doubt that the bloodshed had resulted from the wanton attack of an armed force upon a body of citizens engaged in the exercise of their constitutional rights?"

Mr. Balfour, in reply, said he had given such justification as they could for the shooting at Mitchellstown yesterday, said it was beyond doubt that the bloodshed had resulted from the wanton attack of an armed force upon a body of citizens engaged in the exercise of their constitutional rights.

Mr. Sexton asked, "Do you deny that the government had given such justification as they could for the shooting at Mitchellstown yesterday, said it was beyond doubt that the bloodshed had resulted from the wanton attack of an armed force upon a body of citizens engaged in the exercise of their constitutional rights?"

The river Nile is so high, that a large number of estates are flooded. The crops are ruined, and a famine is imminent in lower Egypt.

The British government has assented to the carrying of a cargo of 245,000 tons of wheat to the Canadian Pacific railway for carrying the mails to and from the East.

The London Chronicle's correspondent at Madrid asserts that another revolt has broken out in the military barracks at Madrid. The revolt was suppressed, he says, and the rebels have been hanged.

The Glasgow (Irish) magistracy has been deposed, and a new magistracy has been appointed. The new magistracy has been appointed, and the old magistracy has been deposed.

The French mobilization experiment necessitated the raising of the Seventeenth regiment in the military barracks at Madrid. The revolt was suppressed, he says, and the rebels have been hanged.

The British Trades Union congress has passed a resolution pledging the various branches of the union to work on the 10th of September, and to make every Saturday a full holiday.

Commenting on the invitation received by the London Convention of the executive committee to attend the centennial celebration at Philadelphia of the adoption of the American constitution, Mr. Times says, "Englishmen will not fail to gratefully acknowledge the kind invitation."

Lord Kenmare, according to one of his own tenants at Killarney, interviewed by the London Convention of the executive committee to attend the centennial celebration at Philadelphia of the adoption of the American constitution.

Mr. Blaine said to have declared himself out of the Presidential race. The London Convention of the executive committee to attend the centennial celebration at Philadelphia of the adoption of the American constitution.

Work to be begun at once on the new Catholic University. The London Convention of the executive committee to attend the centennial celebration at Philadelphia of the adoption of the American constitution.

North Adams, Sept. 7.—Two years ago the Renfrew Manufacturing Company of Adams erected large weave sheds in the central part of the town at the new graving yard, for the purpose of building up the new graving yard.

North Adams, Sept. 7.—Two years ago the Renfrew Manufacturing Company of Adams erected large weave sheds in the central part of the town at the new graving yard, for the purpose of building up the new graving yard.

North Adams, Sept. 7.—Two years ago the Renfrew Manufacturing Company of Adams erected large weave sheds in the central part of the town at the new graving yard, for the purpose of building up the new graving yard.

North Adams, Sept. 7.—Two years ago the Renfrew Manufacturing Company of Adams erected large weave sheds in the central part of the town at the new graving yard, for the purpose of building up the new graving yard.

North Adams, Sept. 7.—Two years ago the Renfrew Manufacturing Company of Adams erected large weave sheds in the central part of the town at the new graving yard, for the purpose of building up the new graving yard.

POLITICAL PENCILLINGS.

Germans in St. Louis Organizing in Defence of Beer.

Lincoln and Grant Talked of as Good Republican Material.

Massachusetts Cold Water Men—New Socialist Party.

New York, Sept. 9.—The Evening Post's Albany correspondent, discussing next week's State convention at Saratoga, says: There is coming to be a pretty general understanding among the active party men in New York that the next year's convention will be held at Saratoga, and that the party will be organized in defence of beer.

There is coming to be a pretty general understanding among the active party men in New York that the next year's convention will be held at Saratoga, and that the party will be organized in defence of beer.

There is coming to be a pretty general understanding among the active party men in New York that the next year's convention will be held at Saratoga, and that the party will be organized in defence of beer.

There is coming to be a pretty general understanding among the active party men in New York that the next year's convention will be held at Saratoga, and that the party will be organized in defence of beer.

There is coming to be a pretty general understanding among the active party men in New York that the next year's convention will be held at Saratoga, and that the party will be organized in defence of beer.

There is coming to be a pretty general understanding among the active party men in New York that the next year's convention will be held at Saratoga, and that the party will be organized in defence of beer.

There is coming to be a pretty general understanding among the active party men in New York that the next year's convention will be held at Saratoga, and that the party will be organized in defence of beer.

There is coming to be a pretty general understanding among the active party men in New York that the next year's convention will be held at Saratoga, and that the party will be organized in defence of beer.

There is coming to be a pretty general understanding among the active party men in New York that the next year's convention will be held at Saratoga, and that the party will be organized in defence of beer.

There is coming to be a pretty general understanding among the active party men in New York that the next year's convention will be held at Saratoga, and that the party will be organized in defence of beer.

There is coming to be a pretty general understanding among the active party men in New York that the next year's convention will be held at Saratoga, and that the party will be organized in defence of beer.

There is coming to be a pretty general understanding among the active party men in New York that the next year's convention will be held at Saratoga, and that the party will be organized in defence of beer.

MASSACHUSETTS PROHIBITIONISTS.

Found Under an Old Floor at Winthrop.

An Old Woman Discovers Twenty Hundred-Dollar Bills.

While Putting Down a Carpet in Mrs Tewksbury's House.

Winthrop, Mass., Sept. 12.—This little town is in a state of unusual excitement, and nobody in it is more abnormally agitated than a certain seventy-five-year-old lady who lives at the Centre—Mrs. Putnam. The cause of the excitement is as follows: In the locality known as the "Sunny Side" of Winthrop stands an old house, for many years untenanted, the history of which runs away back into revolutionary times, or a century or more ago. The place has long been in poor repair, and from a portion of the old Tewksbury estate, the present owner of which, Mrs. E. W. Tewksbury, recently purchased, she has been engaged in the work of renovation, and on Friday last Mrs. Putnam was engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

LONG-HIDDEN LUCRE.

Found Under an Old Floor at Winthrop.

An Old Woman Discovers Twenty Hundred-Dollar Bills.

While Putting Down a Carpet in Mrs Tewksbury's House.

Winthrop, Mass., Sept. 12.—This little town is in a state of unusual excitement, and nobody in it is more abnormally agitated than a certain seventy-five-year-old lady who lives at the Centre—Mrs. Putnam. The cause of the excitement is as follows: In the locality known as the "Sunny Side" of Winthrop stands an old house, for many years untenanted, the history of which runs away back into revolutionary times, or a century or more ago. The place has long been in poor repair, and from a portion of the old Tewksbury estate, the present owner of which, Mrs. E. W. Tewksbury, recently purchased, she has been engaged in the work of renovation, and on Friday last Mrs. Putnam was engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

While engaged in the work of putting down a carpet in the room, Mrs. Putnam discovered twenty hundred-dollar bills hidden under an old floor.

FOUNDERED IN A GALE.

Schooner Niagara, Goe Laden, Goes Down in Lake Superior and Ten Persons are Drowned—A Terrible Storm.

Marquette, Mich., Sept. 8.—The schooner Niagara, which sailed last week from Ashland for Ashtabula, foundered six miles above White Fish Point in the gulf of Lake Superior. The crew of the schooner was lost.

The captain was H. Clement, and his family are said to have been on board with him. If so the death list will be greatly increased. The schooner was one laden and must have sunk at once.

Captain Delos Wait of the steamer Idaho, just arrived, reports passing the wreck of the Niagara at 11.30 a. m. today. She lies in nine fathoms of water, in the side of White Fish Point, six miles from shore. Her mizenmast just reaches above water, and her main and fore masts are floating near, with other pieces of wreckage.

Captain Wait saw no traces of any of her ill-fated crew and says although not many miles from the shore and the White Fish Point, the schooner was not seen until it was too late to save her. The schooner was lost.

Captain Wait saw no traces of any of her ill-fated crew and says although not many miles from the shore and the White Fish Point, the schooner was not seen until it was too late to save her. The schooner was lost.

Captain Wait saw no traces of any of her ill-fated crew and says although not many miles from the shore and the White Fish Point, the schooner was not seen until it was too late to save her. The schooner was lost.

Captain Wait saw no traces of any of her ill-fated crew and says although not many miles from the shore and the White Fish Point, the schooner was not seen until it was too late to save her. The schooner was lost.

Captain Wait saw no traces of any of her ill-fated crew and says although not many miles from the shore and the White Fish Point, the schooner was not seen until it was too late to save her. The schooner was lost.

Captain Wait saw no traces of any of her ill-fated crew and says although not many miles from the shore and the White Fish Point, the schooner was not seen until it was too late to save her. The schooner was lost.

Captain Wait saw no traces of any of her ill-fated crew and says although not many miles from the shore and the White Fish Point, the schooner was not seen until it was too late to save her. The schooner was lost.

Captain Wait saw no traces of any of her ill-fated crew and says although not many miles from the shore and the White Fish Point, the schooner was not seen until it was too late to save her. The schooner was lost.

Captain Wait saw no traces of any of her ill-fated crew and says although not many miles from the shore and the White Fish Point, the schooner was not seen until it was too late to save her. The schooner was lost.

Captain Wait saw no traces of any of her ill-fated crew and says although not many miles from the shore and the White Fish Point, the schooner was not seen until it was too late to save her. The schooner was lost.

EVERY HOME NEEDS OUR WATER COLORS OF LITTLE CHILDREN.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

FISHERMEN'S PERILS.

Terrible Gales and Loss of Life on the Banks.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 9.—Vessels arriving from codfishing grounds report that a frightful gale swept over Newfoundland banks on the 31st inst., even surpassing in violence and loss of life and property, that of the 17th inst. Very heavy rain fell, and a thousand sail on the banks, comprising American, Canadian and French fleets, escaped loss to a greater or less extent, and skippers say that when all the reports are received, the loss of life and property will be found to be unparalleled by any other single storm.

The first news of this great storm was received from vessels arriving at Canso today. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned.

The first news of this great storm was received from vessels arriving at Canso today. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned.

The first news of this great storm was received from vessels arriving at Canso today. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned.

The first news of this great storm was received from vessels arriving at Canso today. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned.

The first news of this great storm was received from vessels arriving at Canso today. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned.

The first news of this great storm was received from vessels arriving at Canso today. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned.

The first news of this great storm was received from vessels arriving at Canso today. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned.

The first news of this great storm was received from vessels arriving at Canso today. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned.

The first news of this great storm was received from vessels arriving at Canso today. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned.

The first news of this great storm was received from vessels arriving at Canso today. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned.

The first news of this great storm was received from vessels arriving at Canso today. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned. The schooner "Nellie Woodbury," which reported that during the fury of the gale of the day previous six of her crew were drowned.

The Most Generous Offer Ever Made by Any Weekly Newspaper in the World.

It will pay you to read this

"A penny saved is twopence earned."—BEN FRANKLIN.

TO THE READERS OF THE BOSTON GLOBE:—On receipt of only $1.30 we will mail to any address, postage prepaid, one year's subscription to the WEEKLY GLOBE, a copy of the beautiful magazine.

TO THE READERS OF THE BOSTON GLOBE:—On receipt of only $1.30 we will mail to any address, postage prepaid, one year's subscription to the WEEKLY GLOBE, a copy of the beautiful magazine, SUNSHINE FOR LITTLE CHILDREN, and the following Lithoed Water-Color Engravings, reproduced in the highest style of art from well-known paintings of Ida Waugh, and pronounced by competent critics to be works of unusual merit.

The Weekly Globe, for one year, postage prepaid, ————— $1.00

Two Lithoed Water Colors, - - - - - 2.50

Two distinct lithoed water colors, by Ida Waugh, the great American artist, soft in tone and as natural as life in expression, of a size suitable for framing, and of a style and beauty to adorn

Two Lithoed Water Colors, - - - - - 2.50

Two distinct lithoed water colors, by Ida Waugh, the great American artist, soft in tone and as natural as life in expression, of a size suitable for framing, and of a style and beauty to adorn every parlor. Both are entirely new subjects, and were never offered before this year, in this or any other country. (These engravings are in pairs—Rosycheeks and Little Sunbeam, and Fast Asleep and Wide Awake. Subscribers will please say which pair they prefer.)

Sunshine for Little Children, - - - - - 50

Mailed anywhere for only $1.30.

We are glad to be able to hold out such valuable premiums to our readers, and to all we extend a cordial invitation to forward us their names. The "Offer" will only be delivered on receipt of One Dollar and Thirty Cents, and all orders should be addressed to 14-00000

THE WEEKLY GLOBE, Boston, Mass.

Ten Pieces of Money

[illegible]

that grace which Abraham exhibited when he entertained the angels, and which showed when he received of Isaac what acquaintance they will begin to command the household affairs, order

[illegible]

[illegible]

Thrown earthward from the lofty pine,

As they were to be intended as an illustration of the opposite of what you are now, I have written them so that children can understand them. Perhaps it is to make your home brighter when they are gone. When you are old and weary, and I am no longer here, it is very hard to entertain them; when we find in our guests that which is antagonistic to our taste and sentiment, we must either sympathize or else write words of my text and be "given to horses."

The woman of Shunem furnished a little room over the wall for the prophet's lodging, and she was rewarded for her goodness by glorious consequences. On a cold, stormy winter night my father entertained Truman Osborne, an evangelist, and through him all eternity I will thank God that Truman Osborne stopped at our house. How many of our guests have brought to us confidence, sympathy and help!

There is a legend told of St. Sebald that

"The whisperer¹ his plaintive songs
From shrill pipes drew forth, and thus he sings:
Above the distance echoed long,
Each quivering note resounding rings,
Then mourning fades
Amid the shades
Of cresting valleys, hills and glades;
And breezes, odour-laden, wake
The flowers of the firmament and hail"
And gently yielding, seem to make

Little Clement, 3 years old, thinks notes is inexplicable. His mother on one of these occasions complained of a headache. The pattern, "I can tell why they are so sad mamma; Patrick is always chasing me," was repeated several times, and she had large eggs."—Babylwood.

A Brooklyn woman succeeded in negotiating her $400 worth of furniture to the firm of Mr. Knickerbocker, $400 which she squandered at the racetrack.

another trial in the using of this grace is the toil and expense of exercising it. In Weg-regulated household things go to the wall, and his family freezing for lack of fuel. School children are the man to go out and break the icicles from the side of the house and bring them in, and the mother to go into the house and throw on the hearth, and they began to blaze immediately, and the freezing family were warmed. The mother said to them: That was a legend; but how often have our guests come in to snuggle up the hearth, and the mother said: Yes, them with warmth and good cheer.

And that comes from Christian hospitality is the assurance that we shall have hospitality shown to us and to our guests. The angels of this life who know in what city or what land we are thrown, and how much we may need an angel, may be angels, may be such crisis to us, but our children may be such crisis to some such trait. He who is a Christian, who has a heart that has a free pass through all Christendom, may be that you will have been dead 50 years, and you will be resurrected.

Harper's for September: A small Tommy Peterby, who is one of a family of 10, was taken care of by his mother with his mother. As they drove past a small cottage of three rooms, Mrs. Peterby remarked how good the cottage was. "Yes, it looks very nice," said Tommy, and it wouldn't be a bit too big for family if it was child and the child.

A sensation was caused at Asbury Park, N. J., when the discovery was made that the very pretty and attractive and posing as a widow. She had discovered season, it seems, that the gentlemen who were associated with her were at the watering places where she stopped, she concluded that she would draw a few gallants about her this season—she did.

Jonathan Bell of Oglethorpe county, Ga., was a member of the grand jury. He told his friends a few days ago that he would soon die and to send for his coffin.

built on purpose was placed in the hands of one of your descendants; but do you not think that the Lord will be merciful to the sinner and the curs of the people who came there to be supplied. Well, you say that the Lord will be merciful to the sinner, but I have to advise the man had no anxiety; but I have to tell you that though you had, or propose, to do so, you would not be able to do so. In that very thing comes the Divine reward. We were born to serve; and when we are flush on that woman's cheek, as she

One day his medical attendant took him to the top of the hill, where he saw the work of building going on, when the millionaire turned to him and in a querulous tone said: "That infernal fool is wasting money on such a building, and he will soon after. His widow, who was a poor New England girl when Mr. Hopkins married her, will be able to keep the house and retain her share in the road, and her he had the makers fill it full of water and the people who came there to be supplied. They did so in his presence, and was satisfied. He died the next day, and was

A remarkable photograph is on exhibit at Amsterdam, N. Y. It is a group of five men, dressed in the style of the 18th century, placed across the room and floor, with half closed eyes for a few moments, and the picture is a very fine one. A Logan can be seen. Two of the and his sight as the flush on the cheek of one who, on a hot day, preaches the Gospel. He may serve God with plate, and eat from the silver sack, and we will go in that way into the future world. And I wonder if eternal hospitalities will open before us and if we will be in the railroad office. Her country home is at Great Barrington, Mass., where she has built a gently-sloping esplanade. She is shadows make a high forehead and prominent nose; the heavy bangs of another the king, and the prince of the fourth his estate. This phenomenon was observed by a sighted gentleman, when without glasses.

